Mt. Ecclesia School for Children

A New Era School

—o*o—

The Patio of the School.

This school of the New Age is located on one of nature's beauty spots, a high plateau overlooking the great Pacific ocean to the west, and in the east the snow-capped mountains are plainly visible. This is a perpetual summerland, the outdoor land of the children.

The children now coming to birth are of a new type, and this school has been established to properly develop the spiritual and mental qualities of those attending it. It is a New Age school, and we make the assertion that it is a forerunner of many of its kind.

Each child in its development repeats the life history of the race, and its early years are therefore the most crucial of its life. We accept children between the ages of four and seven years only, and endeavor to give them individual, sympathetic training, which at this formative period of their lives will lay a foundation for future splendid men and women. The school is also open to day pupils.

The children are housed in an attractive new building of Mission architecture, consisting of a schoolroom, two dormitories, one for boys and the other for girls, with class rooms between. There are also individual rooms for the matron, dietitian, and resident principal. This makes the little folks' home complete in itself.

The teacher is thoroughly acquainted with all the newer methods of child training in relation to the development of both mind and body.

The physical bodies of the children are cared for by properly prepared foods, such as vegetables, fruit, and eggs. Wholesome milk is given to them, but no meat at any time.

Scientifically directed play out of doors and rest periods are a part of the daily program.

The children sleep in well ventilated dormitories, which further tends to the building of perfect physical bodies.

Daily spiritual services, Sunday school, story hour at bedtime, nature studies where they learn the oneness of life, teaching them the tender care of animals, birds, and flowers, all tend to train the emotions Godward. The immature mind of a young child is imitative rather than creative. Therefore efforts should be made toward the cultivation of good habits by impressions made upon the vital body amidst harmonious surroundings, for everything in the child's environment leaves its imprint for good or ill.

The matron is in a position at all times to assist the teacher or dietitian. She also cares for the children's personal needs, assists them with their baths, care of their teeth et cetera, and in addition keeps a weekly record of their weight and condition. In this ideal environment even a very delicate child should be restored to normal health.

First pupil to enroll in this school.
